In these last hours before Christmas, many of us are doing our best to fit in prayer time.

It can feel like we're just hanging on for dear life. In the midst of all our activities, though, the Lord remains present to us with the assurance of his coming. It doesn't matter so much what we are doing provided that we look to him who is Son of the Most High. A moment of silence. A simple prayer. On these last few days of Advent, we beseech the Blessed Mother for a share in her openness to the Lord and his grace, so that by her prayers it may be done unto us according to his word.

(Fr. Gregory Pine O.P.)
